PITTEBURG, Sept. 7.—The game between Pittsburg and Chicago to day was one of the most bitter ever played in Pittsburg, the home team winning 8 to 2. Tinker, who was finally put out of the game for his abusive language, was hissed by the spectators, and after he had gone the crowd rose and shouted for President Reydler of the National League, who was present, to suspend Tinker from baseball. Chance too was put out of the game for abusive language. Evers was out of the game to-day, having been posified of a three day suspension by President Heydler. The score:
